A. M. and Orin Wagner went to Spokane last week. The former has returned home, but Orin stopped in La Grande to visit for a few days.
J. H. Flowers is having a new front put on the Star laundry and an addition built on the side, giving more room for the constantly increasing business.
J. A. Funk and family started Sunday for Turlock, Cal., where they will make their home. They will visit his father, W. J. Funk, and other relatives at Portland.
This is the year you can afford to buy that range for your wife. We have the Universal, the best and most moderate priced range on the market. Ask the women. Hartshorn & Keltner.
Henry Young and Taylor Springer left last week for Noble county, Ohio, accompanied by Hazel, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Young, who will spend the winter in the East, returning next spring with her Uncle Henry. Mr. Springer is a brother of Mrs. Charles Young and had been here for the last six months.
John Wortman, Sr., started Saturday morning for California where he will spend the winter. He will stop at Elgin and visit his brother Daniel a few days, and then go on to Turlock, Stanislaus county, where he will put in most of the winter months. He expects to see the members of the Wallowa county colony who have migrated to that Eldorado, including the Yandells, Horner of Imnaha, Sam Hart and brother formerly of Trout creek, and others. Mr. Wortman has no intention of remaining, as after 18 years experience he is perfectly satisfied with the climate of the Wallowa valley. Mr. Wortman also expects to visit the new town of Corning in the Sacramento valley, 90 miles north of San Francisco. If he sees anything there or in the San Joaquin valley either that is half as good as the Wallowa valley, all things considered, he will have sharper eyesight than the writer.

Diamond W Coffee—"Best I ever drank," says everyone. E. M. & M. Co.
The Royal Neighbors held an open meeting after a short lodge session, Thursday night. A number of guests and some visiting Neighbors from Joseph were present. A program of recitations and music was given, card games played and nice refreshments enjoyed.
The steel range peddler is with us again and will doubtless find the usual number of people who will pay big money for seeing him jump on the oven lid. The local dealers who sell a better article for less money ought to learn to turn summersaults, or skin the cat, so as to impress that class of buyers.
Byron Mayfield, Fred Wagner and Pierce Humphreys formed one hunting party, and C. H. Zuercher and E. J. Forsythe another that departed Monday for where the deer and other game is plentiful. Luckily the law restricts them to one deer each or there would be no more venison for later hunters this season.
Medalist Sells Spuds.
John W. Bright of Leap, who was awarded the gold medal for potatoes at the Lewis and Clark exposition, sold five tons of tubers the other day to Robin and Mitchell, the sheep men, at 85 cents a hundred. Mr. Bright makes a great success raising potatoes on his land without irrigation.

DEATH RECORD.

Florence, wife of M. E. Hotchkiss, died at their home in Enterprise, Friday morning at 9:40 o'clock, after a painful illness of three months' duration. The remains were taken to Elgin Saturday and the funeral held Sunday afternoon from the Presbyterian church, of which she was a member; burial was in Elgin cemetery.
The deceased's maiden name was Wheeler and her parents, a sister and a brother, all residing at or near Elgin, survive. She married Mr. Hotchkiss 14 years ago and they had been residents of Enterprise for 2 years, during which time she made a large number of friends by her ever cheerful, kindly disposition. Three daughters, Irma, aged 12, Iolyn aged 9 and a baby Florence will miss the loving care of mother. They and the bereaved husband and other relatives have the sincere sympathy of our people. Mrs. Hotchkiss was a member of the Pythian Sisters, and that order had charge of the funeral. Juanita Temple ordered a very beautiful floral emblem, but by mistake in the address it was sent from La Grande to Enterprise instead of to Elgin.

Sweet Cider and home made Sauer Kraut at City Bakery.
Planing Mill Sold.
V. M. Gregg has sold his planing mill, lumber yard, and timber to Lon Davis, and Mr. Davis has taken possession. Mr. Gregg has done a nice business but his price being offered he sold. Mr. Davis, who recently moved to Enterprise, is by no means a stranger but has already increased the number of his friends. He owns a splendid timber tract at Whiskey creek. He will continue the planing mill on business lines and asks a share of patronage.

Wedges and Splitting Sledges—never any cheaper than now, at Hartshorn & Keltner's big hardware store.
The skating rink will be open Thanksgiving afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock.

Rush of Colonists.

During September and October the Union Pacific system brought 13,753 homeseekers through the Huntington gateway, the greatest colonist movement ever known in the history of the road. Aside from Portland and Baker City, La Grande was the destination on more tickets than any other Oregon point. Next spring there will be an even greater rush but the best country in Oregon will be handicapped in securing its share of the new settlers because Harriman had to get even with Roosevelt.

Paying Industries For Enterprise

A wool scouring plant ought to pay well in Enterprise and certainly would be of great benefit to the owners of sheep and indirectly to the county, said E. B. Knapp, late of Coleman, Mich., who recently located in Enterprise.
At present the wool crop of Wallowa county is rated at only from 30 to 40 per cent wool, the buyers making a very liberal estimate of the amount of grease and dirt. In Mr. Knapp's opinion the rating should be from 40 to 50 per cent.
The price here ranges from 17 to 20 cents a pound. In Boston scoured wool is sold at from 68 to 72 cents. In other words the sheep men of Wallowa county not only lose from the low rating, but pay the freight on the grease and dirt across the continent and the profits of scouring at some plant in the East. It certainly seems reasonable that a scouring plant would pay here. The wool seller would not only receive a higher price per pound but would be given credit for more pounds. The cost of scouring would be paid out in wages here at home, and the profit on the operation would also remain here, building up a larger and better market for all other things the farmers have to sell.

There is no doubt of such an enterprise paying if yarn and knitting mills were run in connection. There are two industries in which factors cannot keep up with orders even running night and day, and they are the shoe and knitting industries. Knitting mills everywhere in the East are overcrowded with orders and are making immense profits. The demand for knit goods has increased in a wonderful way during the last few years, and while factories have multiplied yet not fast enough to supply the demand.

A knitting mill, while it requires expert management, and a certain number of experienced help, can be started on a smaller scale and with less capital than a mill making woolen cloth.

The matter seems a promising one for investigation by the Commercial club.

Pioneer Roofing, sold by Hartshorn & Keltner, the Enterprise Hardware store, is guaranteed to equal the best.
